Dear Mr. Jones:

The Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act of 1980 (CERCLA or Superfund) charges the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) with responsibility for investigation and cleanup of inactive hazardous waste disposal sites. Under CERCLA, EPA is investigating sites where hazardous wastes were alleged to have been disposed of without regard for human health or the environment or where hazardous waste disposal occurred prior to the regulation by state or federal governments.

Each region of EPA has developed a list of potential and/or confirmed sites where improper hazardous waste disposal has or may have occurred. Sites may be placed on the list by CERCLA 103(c) notification, by EPA or state staffs, or by responsible parties.

The EPA Region VII has listed the site known as Perfection Manufacturing Company (I.D. #MOD041885856) located at 5411 Bulwer Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri, as a potential hazardous waste disposal site. The EPA has now completed an investigation and evaluation of this site. Based on all currently available information, we do not believe this site poses a public health or environmental hazard; and we plan no further action.

Please contact Gene Gunn of my staff at (913) 236-2856 if you have any questions regarding this matter.

Sincerely yours,

Robert L. Morby
